as individuals,
people work,
 with different needs,
 requiring solutions

muse

A freestanding modular system designed to use basic components to create spaces that work. Rather than ordering a configuration that is only close, combine worksurfaces and storage units to specify a unit that is exactly what you need and want. From executive offices to reception stations, it's a smarter way to work.

workstations and more

From individual tasking areas to multiuser team stations, the flexible modularity of muse will be a strong base for your specification needs. Mobile and stationary filing and storage solutions range from simple lateral files to multifaceted wardrobes and cabinets. Worksurfaces are available in a variety of shapes and sizes that can be linked together for efficient work areas.

management and executive

Eloquent and sophisticated, bring the muse collection into the management and executive office environment to make a refined statement of functionality. Floating worksurfaces, modesty panels and storage units join to become multifunctional office suites with smart detailing.

modularity and choice

Use the basic building blocks of worksurfaces and storage units to create a unique configuration that fits your space. The myriad of options and details are a versatile answer to the needs of a modern specifier. Durasyn catalyzed paints, Chemcast™ acrylic panels, wood veneer, laminate and vibrant fabric selections will complement and coordinate with any environment.
